Since 2014, I have specialized in buying, selling and trading sports cards and memorabilia. When Me & Dad cards began, we would set up at local card shows in the Northeast area and sell. My buying process considers various factors, including recent sales on platforms like eBay. I analyze past recent sales data to understand current market trends and determine accurate pricing for different cards. This approach helps me provide you with a competitive offer that works for both the buyer and the seller.

We offer thousands of cards, including autographs, relics, graded cards and signed memorabilia. Feel free to look!
